FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE Date: August 10, 2009

Holiday Celebration

Magic Paintbrush Project
Classical Jazz by Dr. James Jewell and Friends
Christmas Carols by The Parlor City Boy's Choir
December 5th and 6th, 2008, 6-9pm

Stop by and join in the fun with Southern Tier HealthLink's First Friday Celebration on Friday, December 5th, from 6-9pm and Saturday from 11-5pm at the former Lackawanna Train Station at 45 Lewis Street in Binghamton.

Our featured artist(s) will be The Magic Paintbrush Project, with all sale proceeds going towards purchasing paints and supplies and providing workshops for special needs families.

Ease the stress of your holiday shopping by perusing our selection of vintage collectibles and antiques, all for sale at "holiday" prices.

Dr. James Jewell and friends will be entertaining from 6-9 on Friday evening with classical jazz, and the Parlor City Boy's Choir will be performing at 6:30 on Friday as well.

We have plenty of parking or you can take a trip on the BC Transit Trolley to our location. It's going to be an exciting night art, antiques and entertainment. Don't miss it!
