

REDISCOVER BINGHAMTON

digital photography exhibit by Wendy Sisson

First Friday Art Walk

July 3rd, 2009, 6-9pm

Southern Tier HealthLink NY, Lackawanna Train Station

45 Lewis Street, Binghamton, NY 13901

Wendy's work encompasses every genre of photography, including portrait, candid, cityscape, landscape, nature and abstract. Her photographic style is modern and distinctive with a timeless, classical edge. Her most recent work includes fine art photography and creative portraiture created through editing and post processing methods to bring her artistic vision to life.

Wendy was born and raised in Binghamton, NY and "has photography in her blood" – a gift of inspiration from her father, who was a photographer during the Vietnam War and returned to open Silver Image Photographics, a custom photographic processing business in Vestal. This is where Wendy has her portrait studio and where she produces her images, working alongside her father. As her children are growing up, Wendy is rediscovering her love of photography and thanks her family for being patient while she stops to 'shoot' the roses.
